Administrative History

The Catholic Church Extension Society was established on October 18, 1905 to serve the home missions, areas that lacked personnel, organization, and finances. The Extension Society has helped to build churches, educate and support clergy and seminarians, and has provided financial assistance for the dioceses in the western and southern states as well as Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Philippines.

Scope and Content

The John J. D'Arcy estate records consist of 1.5 linear feet spanning the years 1922-1956 and include photographs, correspondence, financial records, attorney files, legal records, and the last will and testament of John J. D'Arcy. Subjects covered are the D'Arcy estate, lawsuit records over the estate, and beneficiary records.

Sub-series 1.1: Correspondence, 1922-1939, Box 1

Contains correspondence between James F. Burns and the Catholic Church Extension Society pertaining to the John J. D'Arcy estate and the alleged mishandling of the estate by the Continental National Bank Trust & Company. James F. Burns was the attorney chosen by the Catholic Church Extension Society to present a case against the Continental National Bank Trust & Company.

Sub-series 1.2: Legal & Property Records, 1922-1956, Box 2

Contains wills, correspondence, depositions, and property records relating to the lawsuit between the Catholic Church Extension Society and the Continental National Bank Trust & Company, D'Arcy Estate beneficiaries' records, and D'Arcy property in Michigan and Wisconsin.

Sub-series 1.3: Financial Records, 1938-1956, Box 3

Includes financial records concerning the John J. D'Arcy estates: deeds, check copies, trust securities, disbursement and receipt of funds, and estate correspondence.
