Administrative History

Dorr Eugene Felt was born in Rock County, Wisconsin on March 18, 1862. At fourteen he began working in a machine shop in Beloit, Wisconsin. He moved to Chicago in 1882 and obtained work as a mechanic. A perceptive and skilled worker with an entrepreneurial spirit, in his free time Felt devised and constructed a computation device out of such crude materials as a macaroni box, rubber bands, and metal skewers. Felt called the machine a Comptometer. A mechanical calculator, the Comptometer was the first mechanical calculator to greatly improve upon the first mechanical computing device created, the arithmometer, which was first commercially distributed in 1851. Felt opened Felt and Tarrant Manufacturing Company, a large manufacturing facility in Chicago, out of which he built and sold Comptometers. The Comptometer computing device became a great commercial success and was sold and used world-wide.

As a result of Felt's experience as president of a large industrial company, he was asked by the U.S. Department of Labor to participate in a study of labor relations in Europe. Joining a team of other individuals from the United States, Felt toured England and France in order to examine manufacturing facilities and to speak with owners, managers, and laborers about the successes and frustrations of labor conditions in the two countries. The results of the commission's inquiries were reported and published, but more importantly this trip marked the beginning of Felt's close involvement with national and international trade and labor interests. Felt attended and spoke at labor conferences and wrote about labor conditions, unions, communism, Bolshevism, and other labor-related subjects.

In addition to writing and speaking on broad topics, Felt held posts as president and director of the Illinois Manufacturers Association, president of the Illinois Society Sons of the American Revolution, and director of the United States Chamber of Commerce in 1902. Felt was also a board member of the Chicago Association of Commerce, and a member of Chicago's Union League Club.

During WWI Felt was an Illinois regional advisor for the War Industries Board (WIB) in 1918. The War Industry Board was a government agency founded in 1917 to coordinate the purchase of wartime supplies. The Board set production quotas, allocated raw materials, encouraged manufacturers to standardize products and develop mass-production in order to eliminate waste. Since the government couldn't handle price negotiations or worker strikes caused by increased demands for products during the war, the WIB also settled labor-management disputes. His role in the organization is reflected in the content of this collection. Felt's varying interests and involvement during the war with other organizations such as the Illinois Manufacturers Association or the Army Ordinance Association can be seen in the range of this collection.

Scope and Content

The Felt Collection on WWI consists of 17.5 linear feet and spans the years 1901-1930. The records consist of speeches, notes, order forms, personal correspondence, pamphlets, government and non-government publications, clippings (mostly from Chicago area newspapers), and maps concerning WWI and Post WWI. While the vast majority of the collection is in English there are some clippings, publications, and maps in French, Spanish, and German.

Series 1: Personal, 1914-1929, undated, Box 1

This Series contains drafts of speeches Felt gave during the war era particularly for the Illinois manufacturing association, personal notes, order forms that he saved, and information about the pamphlets he sent away for.

Series 2: Correspondence, 1914-1930, undated, Boxes 1-2, Large flat box 36

This series includes a variety of correspondence mostly personal although some pertain to his roles in various organizations particularly the War Industry Board and the Illinois Manufacturers Association.

Series 3: War Industry Board 1918-1926, undated, Boxes 2-3, 36

While Felt was on the War Industry Board this series consists of publications put out by WIB concerning prices of goods and regulations on manufacturers. There are also some applications and notes that pertain to Felt's role as regional advisor. (See correspondence for information about reunions of the WIB members and box 36 for organizational charts)

Series 4: Organizations, 1914-1930, undated, Boxes 3-5

This series contains information produced by and about a variety of organizations that Felt was either involved in or received information about, this includes newsletters, publications, order forms, invites for events, special speakers, and flyers. Most notably these organizations include the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations and the Chicago Commerce Association. They are organized in alphabetical order by organization.

Series 5: Commerce, 1909-1928, undated. Boxes 5-6

The pamphlets and typed memorandum in this series provide information about domestic and international imports, exports, production/manufacturing, and markets. While most of the information is mass produced there are some handwritten charts.

Series 6: Transportation, 1914-1920, undated. Box 6

This series consists of pamphlets and mailings about international shipping, domestic shipping, risks for merchants, sea power, and freedom of the seas. There is also information about domestic railroads and their impact on business.

Series 7: Military WWI & Post WWI, 1915-1930, undated. Box 7

This series includes pamphlets and newspaper supplements about military battles, actions, technologies, and strategy during and after WWI. The content is a mix of foreign and domestic militaries.

Series 8: Theories and Philosophy of War, 1915-1929, undated. Box 7

This series is comprised entirely of pamphlets they cover topics such as the moral implications of standing armies, religious perspectives on war and peace, international law, the causes of war, and what war may look like in the future (2029).

Series 9: Europe - WWI & Post WWI, 1914-1923, undated. Boxes 8-10, 36

This series includes pamphlets and charts concerning the causes of the war in Europe, projected outcomes, accounts of visits to Europe, and information about specific countries during the war. The series is organized into general Europe, neutral states, and then by country in alphabetical order.

Series 10: Middle East - WWI & Post WWI, 1917, Box 10

This series is all pamphlets and pertains to the future of the Middle East specifically Baghdad, Mesopotamia, and the Ottoman Empire.

Series 11: Asia - WWI & Post WWI, 1916-1921, Undated Box 10

Similar to the Europe and the Middle East series, this series on Asia, contains pamphlets about the impact of the European war on Asia, Asian relations with Europe, and the future of Asian countries specifically Japan and India.

Series 12: The United States of America - WWI & Post WWI, 1915-1929, Box 11

This series includes pamphlets about the influence of the War in Europe on America, its impact on European-American relations, and how the American's choose to respond to the war in Europe.

Series 13: The Peace Process of WWI, 1916-1928, undated. Boxes 11-12

This series contains pamphlets discussing the prospects for peace, different countries perspectives on peace, as well as different proposals for peace such as getting rid of armies or navies and what impact this would have on future wars. Specific topics include the League of Nations and the world court. While some are factual pamphlets others are results of an essay contest held in America and Europe calling for solutions to the war.

Series 14: Publications, 1901-1928, undated. Boxes 12-15, 36

The publications series is divided into seven separate sections in addition to general books, magazines, and poetry, there are several subsections with specific publications including -- congressional publications which includes pamphlets produced by the US and Illinois congresses as well text of bills and treaties they've passed and some transcribed speeches. The second is the War Info Series produced by the Committee on Public Information; these pamphlets include general information about the war and what the government was doing. International Conciliation is a similar publication which details international relations with America during the war. Lastly is the publication Miscellaneous which tends to include copies of correspondence between political officials of various countries discussing issues pertinent to the war and peace process.

Series 15: Clippings, 1914-1930, undated. Boxes 16-36

The Clippings series is the largest series. The clippings generally come from Chicago newspapers however there are some from Dearborn, Michigan where the Felt's had a summer home, some from New York Newspapers where felt had hired a clipping service, as well as a few international clippings that he collected while abroad or received in the mail from correspondence. The clippings are organized by month and year. This series includes some foreign language clippings in French, German, and Spanish often these clippings include translations.

Series 16: Maps, 1916-1919, undated. Box 36

This series contains 13 maps of varying size and one chart listing colonial land lost by the Germans. The maps generally deal with wartime Europe although some are world maps. One map is in German.
