Administrative History

Started as the Loyola Union in 1928, the purpose of the organization was to administer, organize, and direct main activities and programs of the student body. This organization remained in effect until 1968 when the Loyola Student Government Association was established to represent the needs of students on all three of Loyola's campuses. Now called the Student Government of Loyola Chicago, the organization represents Loyola students on issues, provides a variety of programs, and seeks to provide an environment for achieving individual, group, and University wide goals.
