Determination: Approve

Comments: Kroken made a motion to approve the minutes. Nishimura seconded the motion. The Committee unanimously supported the motion.

I. New Category III-D

Lab Documentation and Training: All labs are required to have and maintain a current Laboratory Safety Plan, of which the Schedule G is a part, describing their lab space and any hazardous materials therein, and personnel must complete assigned safety trainings prior to conducting research described in the Schedule G. PIs are responsible for specific biosafety training procedures that are applicable to their grants and experiments.

1) HULLAHALLI, K. Title: Suppression of host inflammasome activation by ocular pathogens

Biosafety Level: BSL-2

Purpose: This project aims to understand how bacterial pathogens cause disease and how the immune system interacts with invading microbes. Biohazardous agents will be used to model and modulate the host-pathogen interface.

Committee Comments: Committee much clearer on aims of this protocol, PI has affirmed no gain of function. Minor corrections needed in regards to decontamination procedures and use of sharps.

Status: Designated Member Review (Vote 7-0-0)
