Residential Life Accommodation Policy & Procedures

Policy:

Some disabilities occasionally make it necessary for a student to receive residential life accommodations. As such, requests for residential life accommodations are considered on a case-by-case basis. The SAC considers accommodation requests for residential life accommodations based on submitted documentation, discussions with the student, and information provided by Residence Life. It is the responsibility of the student to submit documentation from a licensed professional. The SAC does not generally consult directly with licensed professionals. SAC may request permission to speak with a student's provider for more information when additional information is needed to make an accommodation decision. Submission of a residential life accommodation request form with supporting documentation does not automatically qualify students for residential life accommodations.

Procedure:

Students may request residential life accommodations at any time by submitting the SAC Residential Accommodation Request Form once they identify a disability-related barrier to living in the residence halls. Students should complete Part A of the form and then send it to their treating provider so that the provider may complete Part B. Once the form is completed by the provider, it may be submitted directly to SAC either via email at sac@luc.edu and copied to the student. Forms will be reviewed by the SAC team, which includes the student's assigned accessibility specialist. For students who have not yet registered with the SAC, a discussion with the assigned accessibility specialist will take place at the initial meeting to evaluate accommodation needs. For students who have already registered with SAC and have had an initial meeting, they should submit the form and schedule a general 30-minute meeting via the Accommodate platform with SAC staff to discuss their request. The SAC team will review the submitted form after the meeting takes place. A decision will be reached as to eligibility for the requested accommodations, and the student will be notified via email.

Implementation of Approved Accommodations

If accommodations are approved, the SAC team will collaborate with the Residence Life team to determine availability of spaces that meet the student's accommodation needs. There may be times of the year that spaces are not available to meet an approved accommodation. In these cases, the student will be placed on a waitlist that is reviewed weekly between SAC and Residential Life staff. Accommodations will be provided to students on the waitlist when space becomes available.
